Unit 2- How We Express Ourselves

An inquiry into the ways in which we discover and express ideas, feelings, nature, culture, beliefs and values.

You will investigate your family's origin, as far back in history as possible. To get this information, talk to your grandparents or other family members to learn where you originate from, when your family arrived in the United States, and/or Georgia and why.

Be prepared to share this information in class. As you are reflecting, which learner profile would you most attribute to your family and why? Your presentation should last no more than 2 minutes. We will use a map of the world, showing where all of our families are from.

Then create a personal flag using the flags of the countries and/or states representing your family's places of origin. Be creative!

Be prepared to share what you learned and your flag on Friday, September 28th.

Hey, You!

Unit 2- How We Express Ourselves

An inquiry into the ways in which we discover and express ideas, feelings, nature, culture, beliefs and values.

Students investigated their family's origin, as far back in history as possible. To get this information, they talked to grandparents or other family members to learn where they originated from, when their family arrived to the United States, and why.

They used a map of the world to show what parts their families are from. They also created a personal flag using the flags of the countries (or states) representing their family history.

Students reflected on which learner profile they would most attribute to their family and why.
